

UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
8 July 1985

STAT

IMPOSTOR FACES SENTENCING THIS WEEK
DOTHAN, ALABAMA

A California man who pleaded guilty to impersonating a U.S. Army captain will appear in federal court this week, where he faces three years in prison and a fine of $250,000.

Alan Everett Goetsch Jr., 34, was arrested at Fort Rucker by FBI agents April 10. He claimed to be working for the CIA on a project in Central America.

He was jailed in Houston County, but freed on $10,000 bond after pleading guilty to the impersonation charge in May. In exchange for his plea, nine other counts against him were dropped.

Defense attorney Jerry Herring says he plans to present his client's CIA contentions at the sentencing hearing Thursday.